

Better Angels

Words and Music by Jan Garrett & JD Martin

Seeing the world through the eyes of a higher vision
Freely feeling the love that's breathing us all
Openly singing the song that holds us together
Willingly lending a hand to tear down the walls
 Calling our Better Angels together
 Calling our Better Angels as we go
 Better angels....Better angels....Better angels
 Calling on our better angels

Who brings the breeze at dawn to the mountain meadows
How do the wild grasses know how to grow
The essential invisible heart of all creation
Living inside of us now, and singing us home
 Calling our Better Angels together
 Calling our Better Angels as we go
 Better angels....Better angels....Better angels
 Calling on our better angels

The better angels of our nature
The companions of our soul
The ones we can count on to guide us wherever we go
Though the dangers may be daunting
We know that we're not alone
We're lifted up....taking the high road home

 Better angels....Better angels....Better angels
 Calling on our better angels
 Better angels....Better angels....Better angels
 Calling on our better angels
