

ALL SHALL BE WELL

Words & Music by Jan Garrett, Megon McDonough, and Karen Drucker

All shall be well, all shall be well,
All manner of things shall be well
All shall be well, all shall be well,
All manner of things shall be well

I am walking through the green pastures
And I know that I'm not alone
The song of the meadowlark sings to my soul
Tenderly calling me home

All shall be well, all shall be well,
All manner of things shall be well
All shall be well, all shall be well,
All manner of things shall be well

I am walking beside the still waters
As fresh as the breeze at dawn
The voice of my ancestors whispering, giving me
The strength to carry on

All shall be well, all shall be well,
All manner of things shall be well
All shall be well, all shall be well,
All manner of things shall be well

Surely goodness and mercy will follow
And love will be leading the way
Every shadow will shine, In the fullness of time
And bloom in the hearts of the brave
