

There is a Rose

Words & Music by Jan Garrett, JD Martin, & Marcy Baruch

Oh, there is a rose
Blooming deep within the heart
(Love is) tending as it grows
No matter who we are

Living water we can trust
To refresh us in the sun
However we may wander
From wherever we've begun

In every in-between
From every here or there
Lies the field of hope unseen
And the beams of love to bear

We are here for but a moment
Just the blink of an eye
To fulfill our true promise
In the fullness of time

Oh, the rugged road of lonely
We travel without sight
Guided by the fragrance of Heaven through the night

And the morning light will find us
Growing stronger every day
May the summer breeze remind us
To be singing on our way

Yes, and joy will be our compass
Ringing Freedom all around
Let our love forever blossom
With our roots in holy ground

.....Oh, there is a rose.....
